

There Are No Threes

In Man

*“A threefold cord is not quickly broken.”
(Ecclesiastes 4:12)*

“And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.”

(Ecclesiastes 4:12)

Introduction

“Two are better than one; because they have a good reward for their labour. For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth; for he hath not another to help him up. Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone? And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.”
(Ecclesiastes 4:9-12)

I. One prevails,

“And if one prevail against him, two shall
withstand him; and a threefold cord is not
quickly broken.”

(Ecclesiastes 4:12)

II. Two withstand...

“And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.”

(Ecclesiastes 4:12)

Conclusion:

But there are no threes in man.

“And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him; and a threefold cord is not
quickly broken.”

(Ecclesiastes 4:12)
